The Creditor's Letter.

Here is an interesting letter received by a well known English tailor in reply to a "final" application for settlement of a long outstanding account: "I have much pleasure in informing you that I have placed you on the list of my creditors, your number on the roll being 103. In view of your name appearing so far down my list and in common fairness to my other creditors who have been on my books now for some considerable time, I am afraid I cannot hold out the slightest hope of the 'early' settlement which you ask for. I think it will be well, therefore, if you discontinue forwarding your frequent 'reminders,' which can do no possible good and which are a constant source of annoyance to me."—London Pick-Me-Up.

A Doubtful Outlook.

A woman in evident distress was standing at her door. "What's the matter, Mrs. Brown?" inquired a neighbor. "Oh, I don't know what to do!" was the reply. "Bill's away at the foot-ball match." "Well, what about that?" said the other. "Ah," responded Mrs. Brown, "you don't know Bill! When his side wins he gets on the loose, and when they lose he comes home and whacks me. They've played a draw today, and I'm sure I don't know what he'll do this time!"—London Express.

Variety.

"I can't see why you don't like hotel life," said Mrs. Gramercy. "It leaves a woman of all her cares and gives her so much spare time. Now, honestly, don't you find that home cooking becomes rather monotonous?" "Not at all," replied Mrs. Park. "Why, my dear, we have a new cook every few weeks."

Fair Offer.

"Can you tell me how to live 100 years?" The philosopher stroked his beard thoughtfully. "I will try," he said, "if you can give any good reason for wanting to live 100 years."—Philadelphia Record.

Earlier Yet.

Clubman—I understand, sir, that you began life as a newsboy? Guest of the Evening—I fear some one has been fooling you. I began life as an infant.—Philadelphia Gossip.

POWER PLANT OF 10,000 HORSE

New Warner Plant Will Use Separate Electrical Transmission.

Treasurer DeVer H. Warner of the Warner Bros. Co., which is to build a $200,000 addition to its plant for the purpose of doubling its capacity, said this morning that Bridgeport concerns would have the first chance to perform all of the work.

Work has been commenced today in removing the half dozen or more buildings that have to be gotten out of the way. The engineers who are getting out the plans for the plant are Dodge & Day of Philadelphia.

Mr. Warner said that the new electric power plant will be 1,000 horsepower with separate transmission to every department of the plant.

NO LAW TO STOP ITINERANT FISH SALE

Several of the local fish dealers made a complaint against the little fishing schooner which runs in here from Block Island with live cod, a few days ago. The dealers who pay rent thought the vessel should be made to pay a license fee because it was competing with them and using the public landing at the lower bridge. Harbormaster Morris has looked into the matter and found that the vessel is tied to piles on the property of J. P. Noble and that he is collecting $1 per day as a wharfage fee. As for the taking out for a license it was found upon making inquiry of the prosecuting attorney that the schooner is protected by the Inter-State Commerce laws.

TRAVEL BRISK ON BARNUM AVE.

At a rousing meeting of the owners of property in Barnum avenue between the Stratford town line and Mill Hill avenue, held in room 219 Meigs building, last night, it was announced that 14 people passed Mill avenue within three-quarters of an hour last night, not to say anything of others who passed before and later. The property owners elected Allen Beatty, Thomas McQuillan, H. Stratford, Alderman Zink and A. L. Nettleton a committee to wait upon Supt. Chapman of the Connecticut Co. for the purpose of arranging a meeting with Vice President Townley of the company to see if tracks cannot be laid through Barnum avenue to serve the rapidly growing section.

LICENSE TO MARRY. James Craddock, aged 34, a milk peddler and native of Stratford, secured a license today to marry Mary Gargaly, aged 18, a native of Hungary. The girl's father gave his consent to the marriage. Craddock stated that he had been previously married, but was divorced.

Avalanches.

There are avalanches of different kinds, but when the term "avalanche" is used it is generally supposed to apply to falls of great bodies of snow or ice, says Mr. Edward Whymer in the London Strand Magazine. One of the first occurrences of this kind which attracted attention took place in 1820, upon Mont Blanc, and it is commonly called the Hamel accident. Dr. Hamel, a Russian, set out on Aug. 18 to go up Mont Blanc, accompanied by two Englishmen and eight guides. They had ascended to a height of more than 14,000 feet, with five guides in front, who were cutting or making steps, when all at once the snow above them gave way, and the members of the party were carried down a thousand feet or more over the slopes up which they had toiled. Snow again broke away above them more or less covered them. Some of them struggled out, but three of the leading guides were hurled into a crevasse and buried under an immense mass of snow. The bodies of these men reappeared at the foot of the glacier thirty years afterward.

Two Bits of Wood.

Importance cannot be reduced to a matter of size. The success of a piece of work may depend on a tiny detail. Such is the case in regard to that marvel of construction, the violin. Rev. H. R. Haweis in his "My Musical Life" tells of the care and labor expended on two little pieces of wood which go to make up the perfect whole. The sound bar is a strip of pine wood running obliquely under the left foot of the bridge. A slight mistake in its position, looseness or inequality or roughness of finish will produce that hollow, teeth on edge growl called "wolf." It takes great cunning and a life of practical study to know how long and how thick the sound bar must be and exactly where it is placed in the instrument. The sound post is a little pine prop, like a short bit of cedar pencil. It is the soul of the violin, and through it pours all vibrations. Days and weeks are spent in adjusting the tiny sound post. Its position exhausts the patience of the maker and makes the joy or the misery of the player.

Moving on Short Notice.

I was lying on the floor of an old country log house one summer day near a big open fireplace when I heard a peculiar, frightened squeak. I got up to see what looked like a huge mouse moving at a very rapid walk across the room. When I got a closer look I saw that it was a mother mouse moving her whole family. At least I hope there was none left behind, for very soon a small snake, but large enough to put into a panic the mother of four less than half grown children, came through the empty fireplace and after the little fugitive. The mother mouse had two in her mouth, and fastened to either side of her, apparently holding on with their mouths and for "dear life," were the other two. I killed the snake and watched the moving family disappear through a hole in the corner. I do not know whether they returned after awhile or whether the father mouse put up a "To Let" sign and joined them in a foreign country, but I do know that I saved a happy family.—St. Nicholas.
